

Introduction to Prince 2 (One Day)

Delivered by Brian

Introduction

Project Management expertise is in great demand today across all sectors of business and government. This is a one-day training course in project management based on Prince2 best practice methods.

Who Should Attend?

Those seeking to gain a basic level of understanding of how to deliver a project with some theory behind it. It will be beneficial to those seeking to gain experience in using and applying best practice approaches to project management and using some of the standard tools and techniques of a project manager.

Delivery Methods

This Project Management course is led by a highly experienced project manager and trainer and is a demonstration approach including class presentations, discussion groups, and group exercises. Delegates are encouraged to bring their projects into the class.

Course Content

- Introduction to the Prince2 principles themes and the process framework
- The Prince2 project management lifecycle
- The Prince2 project organisational structure
- Project Planning using the Prince2 product-based planning technique
- How to run a small project using Prince2

Other

The course is delivered based on the Axelos best practice approach. Prince2 is an international recognised project management methodology

Delegates who successfully complete the course may wish to progress to attain a full professional certification in Prince2.