

Project Management for Start-Ups (One Day)

Delivered by Brian

Introduction

Project Management expertise is in great demand today across all sectors of business and government. This is a one-day training course in project management for start-up businesses based on general best practice methods Project Management Institute.

Who Should Attend?

It is suitable for business owners and managers or senior managers. The skills delegates will gain from attending this course will include:

- Project identification
- Scoping, scheduling and costing a basic project
- Managing your stakeholders
- Controlling your projects

Delivery Methods

This Project Management course is led by a highly experienced project manager and trainer and is a workshop-based approach including class presentations, discussion groups, and group exercises. Delegates are encouraged to bring their projects into the class.

Course Content

Part 1 - An introduction to the basic project management concepts

Part 2 - Benefits project management can bring to start-ups

Part 3 - Identifying projects in your business

Part 4 - How to run a basic project start to finish

Other

The course is delivered based on the Project Management Institutes (PMI) best practice approach. PMI is the largest professional project management association in the world. Those who complete the training may wish to progress to full certification.